The authorisation is only valid for the System Owner

IMPORTANT !!!

Unauthorised attempts to access the hidden features of the system, or attempts to force the activation codes are in severe breach of intellectual property rights. The bookkeeping procedures, the text and the programming of this system are an original work and its distribution is subject to the limitations described in the \Introduction/ sheet.

After the expiry date, the use of a copy of the system, previously bought by THE OWNER, by anyone else is a severe breach of the commercial property rights linked to the system.

Once you download the file, you can start to use it to understand whether it fits your needs. You can use your real values since you will not lose any record entered.

Before its expiry date you will have to decide whether to buy it or not.
